DECLARE PORTUGAL IS NOW AT WAR AGAINST KAISERIN WEST AFRICA

INTERPRETATION IS PLACED ON WIRE SENT FROM BERLIN

Dispatch Said Portuguese Are Sending More Troops to Angola Now Held by Germans

TROUBLE BEGAN EARLY IN YEAR

Germans Invaded Portugal Colony Soon After Opening of New Year

LONDON, Feb. 4.—Entry of the twentieth nation into the war on an active basis is chronicled in an obscure paragraph of the official statements received from Berlin yesterday.

Chronicling German occupation of the greater part of Angola, Portuguese West Africa, the report adds that "it is reported from Lisbon that the Portuguese government is sending more troops to Africa."

This is the first news of Portugal's active participation in the war against Germany and on the side of the powers of the triple entente.

Text of Dispatch

The dispatch from Lisbon to Berlin says: "Reinforcements have been sent to Angola, as the Germans now occupy the greater part of that colony."

Announcement was made early in January that German forces had invaded Portuguese Angola on the western coast of Africa, although there had been no declaration of war between the two countries. The Portuguese casualties in Angola were estimated at that time at about 500 killed, wounded and taken prisoner. The Germans were said to have lost about 200.

It was said that 4,000 fresh Portuguese troops were ready to embark for Africa.

The death of two German officials at high rank in Angola is reported by Berlin to be amply confirmed.

May Annex Policy

Possible annexation of German Southwest Africa by England was hinted at today by Lord Buxton, governor general of South Africa, in a speech delivered at Bloemfontein, according to dispatches from here today.

Said Lord Buxton: "The sympathies of the neutrals are on the side of the allies. Holland knows that if Belgium is annexed by Germany, she would be the next victim. But Germany might find southwest Africa annexed. The interests of South Africa are bound up with the allies."

ANDERSON FUNERAL TO BE HELD FRIDAY

With Rev. Carlos C. Rowles officiating, funeral services for Oscar L. Anderson, well known traveling man who died here Tuesday afternoon, will be held at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon from the Congregational church.

The body will lie in state to be viewed by friends from 12:30 o'clock until 2 o'clock Friday afternoon. Mrs. John Latham, Atlanta, Ga., Mr. Anderson's only daughter, sent word from Chicago today she would arrive in La Crosse tomorrow morning.

Interment will be made in the Oak Grove mausoleum.

Weather

Temperatures yesterday: High, 26. Low, 26. Precipitation, 0.

Forecast for La Crosse and vicinity: Rain or snow tonight. Snow and colder Friday.

For Wisconsin: Rain or snow tonight and Friday. Warmer east portion tonight; colder Friday. East to southeast gales becoming variable.

For Minnesota: Snow tonight and Friday. Colder. Strong northeast shifting to southwest winds.

For Iowa: Rain or snow tonight; colder west and central portions. Friday threatening and colder with rain or snow east and central portions. Strong shifting winds.

Weather Conditions

The weather storm is central this morning over Kansas and eastern Nebraska and rain or snow is falling at most stations from the upper Mississippi valley to Montana. The pressure is highest over the middle and north Atlantic states and cloudy and colder weather prevails in that section. The storm will pass to the eastward of this section during the next 24 hours and rain or snow will result in this section tonight probably followed by snow Friday with lower temperature.

JUDGE LANGSTADT CELEBRATES TODAY GOLDEN WEDDING

Fond Memories Cling to the Day When He Got a Wife and Wore First High Hat

JUBILEE OBSERVED QUIETLY

Original Wedding Was Society Event in Which All La Crosse Participated Fifty Years Ago

Hoch! Hoch der Kaiser, hoch die Rosen, Walter, George und Gus; Hoch der president und lady, Und here's a hoch to us; Hoch der sunshine und der showers, Hoch der Elfenbrau; Hoch der blessings immer alle, Hoch der schoenste Frau. Now you got it, "Hoch die Frau!" All der happy way She has forged der golden chain, Link by link, that binds us twain. Sing mitt me der glad refrain: Hoch der Golden Wedding Day! Hoch!

Judge and Mrs. Herman Langstadt are celebrating the day which rounds out a half century of wedded life spent in La Crosse.

Today is a great day in the Langstadt home, 623 South Seventh street. It is the golden wedding anniversary of the judge, who is 77, and his wife, who is 68. They are holding a jubilee with members of their family in commemorating the event solemnized in La Crosse just fifty years ago.

Judge and Mrs. Langstadt were married in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Levy, which once stood in South Fifth street, February 4, 1865. La Crosse was then barely a village and the whole town turned out to help the happy couple celebrate. Mrs. Langstadt, then blushing Mary Guenther of 18, was a belle of the village and the judge wore his first high hat.

In Marrying Business Himself After the ceremony which was performed by the late Judge Harvey Hubbard, there was a wedding dinner and celebration which the judge still claims outlasted anything seen here since, and the judge ought to know, for he's in the marrying business himself now. Since that far away date he has officiated at more than fifty weddings himself.

Three children have been born to Mr. and Mrs. Langstadt, two of whom are assisting in the celebration today. Mr. and Mrs. Moritz Langstadt of Minneapolis are here, as is Mrs. Rose Waters of this city. His other daughter, Mrs. John Oeschger of Detroit, Mich., was unable to be present.

Judge Langstadt has lived in La Crosse continuously since his wedding day and is still figuring in ward politics. He has been justice of the peace in the Seventeenth ward for twenty years and for two years held office as county coroner. During the administration of former Mayor Torrance, Judge Langstadt was deputy police justice for four years. He declares he is still hale and hearty and hasn't been ill a day.

MRS. MUSTANG MACK NOW COUNTY GUEST

White Wife of La Crescent Indian, Once La Crosse Belle, Takes Jail Sentence

Once considered the belle of North La Crosse, and prominent in society in that part of the city forty years ago, Ella Whitewater, aged 50, wife of Frank Whitewater, a La Crescent, Minn., Indian, was today sentenced to ten days in county jail for common drunkenness.

Ella Whitewater's name was Ella Whipple. She was born in La Crosse of parents who were pioneers of the upper Mississippi and she grew into womanhood in the good graces of the best people here. Aside from being considered the prettiest girl, she was a leader in society.

Her first husband was "Mustang Mack," whose proper name was McDonald.

Mrs. McDonald reared two children, one of whom took her place as the belle of the North side. Then her husband died, and her friends lost track of her.

Judge Brindley has been forced to place the woman in jail many times. With her husband she drives from her Indian camp near La Crescent to La Crosse and nearly every time is arrested.

VON KLICK'S SON KILLED

LONDON, Feb. 4.—The Star's Copenhagen correspondent wired on Tuesday that General von Kluck's eldest son, Egon Davall, a lieutenant attached to the German marines, was killed at Middelkerke on the Belgian coast when that town was bombarded by British warships.

HIRT IS ROBBED OF AFFIDAVITS ACCUSING COPS

Offices Entered at Noon and Anti-Police Evidence Is Stolen by Sneak Thief

POLICE ARE NOT INFORMED

Hearings of Patrolmen Wermuth and Ritter Are Continued Until Next Tuesday

That his office, upstairs at 120 North Third street, was entered and robbed of evidence which he has accumulated in the police cases, is the statement of Joe Hirt, editor of "The Crooked Copper," and complainant against two police officers in matters now pending before the police and fire commission.

Hirt says he left his office open for a short while, between one and two o'clock this afternoon, not longer than twenty minutes. When he returned the papers were gone. "All my affidavits excepting two or three which I had in my pocket, were taken," said Hirt. "The thief also took two letters from Chandler, Minn., that were important."

Hirt said he had not reported the theft to the police. He said that would be a joke, as police officers had been busy intimidating his witnesses. He said that in most instances he could get new affidavits.

At the meeting last evening the police board set Tuesday, Feb. 9, as the date for hearing the charges against Patrolmen Wermuth and Ritter.

The accused officers were represented by Attorney A. C. Wolfe, who proposed that Hirt be placed upon the stand. Hirt protested that it had been agreed that no evidence would be taken at this meeting, and that in consequence he was not represented by attorney. Mr. Wolfe felt that this was no obstacle, that he had no need of an attorney.

President Langdon and Commissioners Gunderson and Doerflinger thought it would be as well to take the testimony, inasmuch as the board was assembled, but upon the suggestion of Secretary Colman, seconded by Commissioner Martin, it was decided to accept Hirt's understanding that an agreement existed. The commission adjourned until Tuesday evening.

WAR TOLL HEAVY ON POOL PLAYERS AND PAWN SHOPS

Ten Thousand Dollars Paid in Amusement and Loan Taxes Here in Two Months

COMMISSION MEN CONTRIBUTE

The Tobacco Handlers Pay About $7,000 for Satisfying Nicotine Cravings of La Crosse

War's levy on the proprietors of theaters, cigar stores, pool and billiard halls, and pawnbroker shops has cost the La Crosse revenue district approximately $10,540 from November 1, when the special tax was required, according to a statement today made by Nicholas Lehrbach, deputy revenue collector here.

Theaters, pawnbrokers, museums and concert halls have added $1,990 to Uncle Sam's fund to keep the country moving during the European war. Theaters are classed in five divisions, according to their size, and are required to pay from $25 to $100 each.

There are but two commission merchants in the district and these are required to pay $20 each. Two pawnbrokers in the district have to pay $50 each.

Tobacco dealers, including grocers, saloons, cigar stores and other establishments handling tobacco, have paid $6,680. These levies are from $4.80 to over $2,000 each, and are determined by the amount of business each dealer does.

Pool and billiard hall proprietors, aside from having to pay for the right to sell cigars and tobacco, now have to pay $5 for each pool or billiard table they operate.

La Crosse has paid up on time in the majority of instances, according to Mr. Lehrbach. No more than six delinquent revenue tax payers have been found. Those who did not pay within the time limit fixed, are now required to pay an added fifty per cent.

Some small dealers have stopped the sale of tobacco here on account of the tax.

CHARLES FRITZ RESTS EASILY

There is reported to be no change in the condition of Charles Fritz who was taken to the St. Francis hospital suffering with dropsy. He is resting easily.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST KONIGSBERG CAPITAL OF EAST PRUSSIA IS ABANDONED BY RUSSIAN FORCES

Hog Aristocracy Combed and Garlanded Holds Reception for Farmers at The Atwater Farm Friday and Saturday

You'd swear that Golden Cream had been to the hair dresser's, and you'd know that Lee's Defender and Corcoran had stood for hours before the mirror playing a pair of military brushes.

Rings in her nose and ribbons on her ears, Golden Cream is social leader of the Red Duroc Jersey 400, the aristocracy of Hogdom, and Lee's Defender and Corcoran are two of the favorite Herd Boys, knights of the Pork Realm. They're the fanciest thing in L. F. Atwater's Show Herd, the hogs that put Bangor on the map.

Friday and Saturday the annual Atwater sale will bring a great crowd to the Bangor farm. Tonight Mr. Atwater will motor to La Crosse to fetch the first of the multitude that foregather for the event de luxe in Pigland. Last year over three hundred buyers attended the sale, and a total of twenty-two automobiles and equipages gathered them from their homes and the trains. The same service will be offered visitors to the Atwater farm this year.

The Show Herd proper consists of twenty-one hogs, for which Mr. Atwater has refused an average of $400 for the lot. He holds them from $400 to $500 per hog. They range in weight from 300 to 1,000 pounds.

In addition to the Show Herd, Mr. Atwater's holdings of pure bred Duroc exceeds one hundred, of which forty-five will be placed on sale. Last year the sale of this class of hogs netted an average of $70.00 per hog. Their weight hovers around the 400 mark.

Men in the employ of Mr. Atwater wash and curry the Show Herd hogs as carefully as the maid of a society bud grooms her mistress, and 1,000 of hog, combed and primped for a fancy ball, is some sight.

Both Bangor and Salem are famous for pure bred hogs. In addition to the great Atwater herd, Bangor is proud of Dick Meinke's splendid bunch of Poland-Chinas and Walter Jenkins' Durocs. West Salem runs to Chester Whites, of which the Nuttleman and Miller herds are leaders.

ALL IS FORGIVEN THOUGH DADDY LOST SON'S YOUNG WIFE

Albert Rockwell Returns to Mrs. Rockwell at Alma; Boy Can't Find the Other

MOTHER AND SON INDULGENT

Refuse to Press Charges Against Old Man Who Gets Off with Nominal Fine

After running away with the young wife of his son, and a tiny grandson, taking the earnings of a lifetime with him, Albert Rockwell, for many years a resident of Nelson and Nodine, Wis., is today again living with his lawful wife at Alma. She welcomed him back with open arms.

Upon a plea of guilty to a statutory charge, County Judge M. L. Fugina of Alma, fined Rockwell $500 and released him.

Through the medium of a postal card which he had mailed to a friend, Rockwell and the young woman were arrested several months ago at Spirit Lake, Idaho. The woman was released and disappeared, but Rockwell was brought back to Alma to face the double charge of deserting the woman he had taken as his wife many years before, and of eloping with the new wife of his son.

After several months in a cell at county jail, following a plea of not guilty, Rockwell made a clean breast of the runaway, pleading guilty as charged.

Albert Rockwell, Jr., the wireless son, now has forgiven his father following his incarceration in jail, although he added his testimony to that of the old man's wife at the hearing following which Rockwell was bound over to circuit court.

According to the story of the son, told at the hearing, he planned a year ago to move to Nelson, Wis., from a Minnesota town. He went in advance of the family to prepare the home.

When everything at the Nelson home was in readiness to receive Mrs. Rockwell, Jr., and her small daughter, investigation showed they had completely disappeared. Rockwell's father was missing also. The father, it is alleged, took with him $8,000, all the money which he and his wife had saved in years of hard work.

No trace of the couple was found, until young Mrs. Rockwell sent a postal card to a relative. Alma authorities brought Rockwell back. Young Mrs. Rockwell was then operating a restaurant and Rockwell a livery stable.

GERMAN TROOPS FROM FLANDERS CHECK ADVANCE

London Dispatch Says That Czar's Army Was Forced to Halt West of Pilkallen

HELD ALSO ON ANGERAP RIVER

Strong Positions Occupied by Teutons Resist Every Effort at Capture to Allow Crossing

BY ED L. KEEN (United Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Feb. 4.—The Russians have abandoned the march on Konigsberg. For the past three days no mention of progress of the campaign northeast of Insterburg has been contained in the official dispatches from Petrograd. Advices received here today say the czar's armies encountered superior forces of the enemy west of Pilkallen and were forced to halt their advance.

Southeast of Insterburg Russian forces assigned to push into northwesterly direction along the railroad leading through Insterburg to Konigsberg made desperate efforts to cross the Angerap at Darkehmen.

The Germans suffered heavy losses, but have occupied strong positions on the west bank of the river. Their position was so strong the Russian attacks, although desperate, were unsuccessful. Russian cavalry, however, drove the Germans out of a small village on the west bank of the Angerap, south of Darkehmen, and the village is now said to be held by the czar's troops.

Troops Sent From Flanders

Northeast of Insterburg the Russians encountered unexpectedly large forces of Germans concentrated along the Lendehnen-Mallwischen line, to the west of Pilkallen. German prisoners taken in that vicinity reported reinforcements brought into East Prussia from Flanders.

Along the western battle line today, military experts are chiefly concerned over the new German attacks near Verdun. The army of the German crown prince has resumed efforts to drive in the French infantrymen who are entrenched outside the besieged city.

New Battle in Poland

PETROGRAD, Feb. 4.—All Poland, from Warsaw west to the Prussian frontier is now a bloody battleground. Official dispatches today reported German attacks along the Bzura. Sanguinary fighting preceded capture by the Russians of Skempe, north of the Vistula. Southwest of Warsaw the czar's aviators rained bombs upon the German concentration camps.

"Germans completely repulsed," was the claim of the general staff today. "West of Warsaw, in the region of Coumin and Borzhymow, south of the Bzura, heavy artillery fire continues day and night."

"Stubborn hand to hand fighting continues at all hours. Both sides are suffering severe losses. Coumin is still held by our forces, although the enemy is making desperate attacks in that region."

Victory for the Russians north of Vistula has aroused enthusiasm here today. It is taken to indicate the resumption of the Russian drive on the Prussian fortress of Thorn.

Claim Capture of Skempe

The grand duke's army captured Skempe, half way between Lipno and Streppe by an infantry onslaught. The Germans are said to have retired in the direction of Lipno which they still hold. A German attack south of Lipno along the Vistula was repelled. A strong Russian force operating southeast of Insterburg forced a crossing on the Angerap on the south of Darkehmen. Along the Rawa Russian aviators bombarded German concentration centers. Brzezim and other points along the railroad in that vicinity are reported also as having been bombarded by airmen.

Trenches Near Each Other

Hundreds of wounded Russian soldiers and many German prisoners are arriving in Warsaw daily. Most of these are from the Bzura region where most desperate fighting has been in progress for weeks. Practically all of the Russian wounded were victims of German rifle bullets. Trenches near Borzhymow are so close together, rifle fire scarcely ever ceases. All night the German artillery plays upon the Russian trenches. Daybreak invariably signals new German infantry attacks.

Austro-German forces in the Carpathians are stubbornly resisting the Russian movement into Hungary, it was officially admitted today. It is also reported that the Germans are bringing up fresh troops.

SCOUT PRESIDENT BRINDLEY TO QUIT

Judge Advocates Election of Younger Man to Lead Boys on Hikes

Judge John Brindley will offer his resignation as president of the La Crosse Boy Scouts at a meeting to be held February 16 in the county court room.

Judge Brindley gives as his reasons that he would rather see a younger man hold the office; one who would be more competent to accompany the boys on their country hikes and join them in their frolics.

The annual election of officers and other business will be transacted at the meeting.

CITY OF ZWICKAU REFUSES U. S. GIFTS

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 4.—On the ground that America's neutrality was merely hypocritical, the war committee in the German city of Zwickau, near Dresden, announced they would refuse to accept gifts from United States. Berlin Local Anzeiger made this announcement today. The committee complained that because America supplies arms and ammunition to Germany's enemies, that neutrality was a farce.

Makes Stubborn Coughs Vanish in a Hurry

Surprisingly Good Cough Syrup
Easily and Cheaply
Made at Home

If some one in your family has an obstinate cough or a bad throat or chest cold that has been hanging on and refuses to yield to treatment, get from any drug store 2½ ounces of Pinex and make it into a pint of cough syrup, and watch that cough vanish.

Four the 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth) into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. The total cost is about 54 cents, and gives you a full pint—a family supply of a most effective remedy, at a saving of $2. A day's use will usually overcome a hard cough. Easily prepared in 5 minutes—full directions with Pinex.
Keeps perfectly and has a pleasant taste.
Children like it.

It's really remarkable how promptly and easily it loosens the dry, hoarse or tight cough and heals the inflamed membranes in a painful cough. It also stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent loose cough. A splendid remedy for bronchitis, winter coughs, bronchial asthma and whooping cough.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, rich in gualiac, which is so healing to the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex," and do not accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction goes with this preparation or money promptly refunded.

The TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

WHAT'S IN A GOWN

BY DOROTHY DOUGLAS

Copyright, 1915, by the McClure
Newspaper Syndicate.

Leonard saw the gown for the first time in the Van Tyler's drawingroom.
His artistic senses were stimulated to a degree quite foreign to them, for Leonard was not of an artistic nature. He was the more surprised, then, that a gown worn by a perfectly strange woman should so excite his admiration.

Usually, Eric Leonard found his senses stirred, if they were to be moved, by purely personal charm.
He was never in the least certain whether his companion wore pink, yellow or green, and whether her hair was coppery or raven black.

Therefore, in view of the strange emotion awakened within him, he went immediately to his hostess and craved an introduction to the girl in the pink dress. He indicated Elise Watterman with a nod of his head in the direction of the tall girl who was laughing lightly with an officer on the navy.

His hostess raised rebuking eyebrows at him.

"Pink? My dear Eric, that is new dawn, not pink!" She let fall the last word as if it were a word erased
from the latest dictionary for society.

"All right, new dawn," laughed Eric, rejoicing that he was a mere man and not expected to know pink from any other color. He followed his hostess until she had piloted him and left him at anchor beside Elise Watterman, who had turned with a delighted smile at his approach, and Eric knew the girl outmatched her new dawn gown both in beauty and the effect on his senses in general.
Elise Watterman seemed to rise above
the softness of the dawn-swept clouds, sparkling, radiant. Her eyes flung rays of light into his own, and her hair was a heap of silky gold.
Eric hoped she had not heard his quickly drawn breath when her hand had met his own.

Apparently she had not, for she talked on as if an emotion had never rested upon the cool beauty of her face.

Eric fell in love with her. He was a struggling journalist, with scarcely enough of worldly goods to hold him securely in the world of success. Yet his precipitate fall into the realm of love was none the less violent.

When he danced a few minutes later with Elise and felt his hand touch the back of the New Dawn gown and realized that the girl herself was within it Eric vowed that he would write the points of his pen in an effort to make himself worthy to win Elise Watterman for his own.
He went home that night with an inspiration such as he had never known before. He would write a novel, a play—something big that would hurl him once and for all time into the world of success and financial strength. After that he could tell Elise that he loved her. Eric heaved a sigh and hoped fame would overtake him before many new dawns. He rejoiced inwardly that the early hours of the day had always been his best time for work.
Somehow Elise and her dawn gown seemed always present when the sun
peered at him over the house tops.

Fortunately he was a practical and not a fanciful writer. What he wrote he wrote because it was what the public wanted and not what he himself considered good.

Before the idea for the great play came to him, Eric saw as much as possible of Elise. He tried, without putting it into words, to convey to her the knowledge that she was the mistress of his heart, and that one day he would tell her so. It seemed difficult, and yet Eric felt occasionally that Elise was sending queer little telegraphic messages of rather delightful import into his inner consciousness. The knowledge only inspired him the more, and his senses
reeled in anticipation of the day upon which his tongue could express the love he bore her.

When the great idea came to him
for the play that was to make him famous Eric made the one false step in his career. He went off into the seclusion of the country to concentrate and left no address behind him.
Friends, even the best of them, were bound to destroy his train of thought.
Seclusion, absolute and perfect, was his only need, and Eric disappeared into that seclusion. Short notes, with just a word of explanation, informed his friends of his departure and intended application to work.

When Elise Watterman read the brief note of farewell a feeling of depression swept over her. She felt suddenly very lonely, and knew that she would not be really happy until Eric Leonard returned to her side. She wished that he had at least trusted
her with his address.

But Eric had trusted no one with knowledge of his whereabouts, Elise least of all, for even the sight of her writing would drag his thoughts away from plays and into day

way to cure deafness, and that is by constitution-

dreams of the time when she should be his.

So the days wore on and Eric Leonard created the parts of a great play. He had no word from his friends in all the five months he worked in his enforced seclusion.
He had read no papers.

However, his play was finished.
More than a little dragged and tired
from strenuous tension of nerves and energy, he made his way back to living beings and the city of friends.

He had no premonition, no hint of the tragedy that was awaiting him in town. Elise Watterman's father had been found guilty of embezzlement, had been sentenced, but escaped punishment by a shot. Elise, feeling the disgrace keenly, had disappeared from the face of the earth.
At least Eric Leonard found his search for her in vain.

Cursing himself for a selfish brute for not having left his address with her, and feeling that she would have communicated with him in her distress, he almost sank beneath the burden of misery that had descended upon him.

His misery did not, however, prevent managers from reading his play
and accepting it with flattering alacrity. Being known as a newspaper man, Eric had little difficulty in gaining a hearing and consequent success. His play was strong and the public welcomed it after many successive failures had been withdrawn.

Eric seemed scarcely to realize that he was now a man of fame and quickly augmenting financial power.
All he was really conscious of was the fact that somewhere in the world Elise Watterman wandered, perhaps homeless and certainly suffering.

It was the sudden sight of the new dawn gown in a second-hand clothing shop that finally gave Elise back to him. He had seen it heaped in the window with an odd assortment of bargains and Eric went into the shop like a man who has a glimpse of Paradise shining before him.

Fortunately for Eric's purpose the clothing man had bought much from the wardrobe of Elise and knew her address. Having obtained it and purchased the frock Eric went his way.

He found his dawn girl bending over the bit of fine embroidery by which she was beginning her life as a working girl. She was dressed in simple black and her hair shone like a sunrise above the somber clouds.

Her smile when she looked up at her visitor and realized all that his presence meant was wonderful to behold.
Eric drew a quick breath then stepped forward and crushed her in his arms.
The proud golden head drooped against his shoulder.

"Elise," Eric whispered brokenly, for he was trembling with the joy of knowing that she was safe within his arms, "my girl of the new dawn."

CROWN PRINCESS OF GERMANY IS EXPECTING STORK

BERLIN, Feb. 4.—The stork is expected to visit Crown Princess Cecile in a few weeks, it was learned today. Arrangements have been made for a special train to hurry the crown princess from the fighting line around Verdun for the event.

The royal couple were married in Berlin in 1905. Four sons have been born to the crown princess.

Increasing use of the national forests by local farmers and settlers to supply their needs for timber is shown in the fact that small timber sales on the forests numbered 8,298 in 1914, against 6,182 the previous year.

How To Cure Rheumatism
Here is a prescription for rheumatism (to be mixed at home) used all over the U. S. for many years and said to be the surest known remedy;
neutralizes acid in the blood and gives results after first dose. "One ounce of Toris compound and one ounce syrup of Sarsaparilla. Put these two ingredients in half pint of whiskey. Use a tablespoonful before each meal and at bed time." Get ingredients at any drug store. Genuine Toris comes in one ounce sealed yellow packages.

Surest for Coughs and Colds
Don't experiment on a bad cough or cold. It is very risky. The following formula easily mixed at home makes one of the surest and quickest cough and cold remedies obtainable, often curing the worst cough or cold in a day. Pine as medicine is as old as the Bible but here is best form. "Two ounces of Glycerine and half an ounce of Globe
Pine Compound (Concentrated Pine); add these to half pint of whiskey. Use a teaspoonful frequently as required. (Smaller doses to children.) Be sure to get the genuine Globe Pine Compound (Concentrated Pine). It is put up only in half ounce bottles, each enclosed in a screw-top can.

Frost Bites, Corns and Sore Feet Don't endure foot agony. Here is a remedy for quick results. It works through the pores removing the cause. "Two tablespoonfuls of Calocide compound in warm foot bath." Gives instant relief for aching and sweaty feet; corns and callouses can be peeled right off. Specially effective for sore bunions, chilblains, and frost bites. A large box of Calocide twenty-five cents at any drug store.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

Two Faced Janus, the Roman God.

"WELL, kiddies, it's well past January, but I'm going to tell you a little story about the meaning of the name."
"Oh, daddy, I've always wanted to know!" cried Jack.
"Well," said daddy, "January gets its name from the Roman god Janus."

"Now, Janus in all the pictures of him has two faces. One face is very old and wrinkled, and this face is supposed to stand for the old year.
The other face of Janus is pictured as very young and beautiful and of course stands for the lovely fresh new year."

"In one of his hands Janus holds a key, and in the other he holds a scepter.
With this key he is supposed to lock up tightly the door that is closed upon the old year so it can't get back again and to unlock and open widely the door of the smiling and beautiful and young new year."

"Then with a wave of his scepter Janus is supposed to start any new undertaking during the year. Of course we know this is Roman mythology, but the ancient Roman boy and girl believed in it."

"They would always bring an offering to the god if they were about to do anything and were taught to thank the god if they succeeded."

"So in this way it became an easy matter for the little Roman boy and girl to blame their failures upon the god Janus instead of upon themselves."

"They would say in excuse if things were very difficult and they didn't continue them: 'Oh, Janus was not willing for me to do this! I'll drop it and do something else.'"

"I don't very often tell a story that ends with a moral, but it does seem to me that this particular story of Janus is best ended in just that way."

"In the first place, the sooner little kiddies like you and Evelyn, Jack, know that success in anything depends very much on yourselves the better you and the world will be."

"I'm going to use a big word now, and then I'll explain to you in simple words what it means. The word is individualist."

"Now, that word by some writers is made to mean selfishness, but I'll tell you what I think it means."

"You see, kiddies, the great world of men is no better than the single persons who make up the world. Now, if each person tries to be just as good as he can and do all the good he can and knows that his mistakes and failures are his own fault and that his successes are due to his making right efforts, why, that person is an individualist, and by each individual living a better life all the time, why, don't you see, kiddies, that after awhile the whole world will be a better place to live in."

first opportunity in the city's history for a continuous pleasure trip not returning upon its own tracks.

La Crosse is well supplied with automobile and carriage roads of a high standard, the chief fault of which is that they are disconnected. They shoot out from the city at nearly all points of the compass, but have no connecting units which allow planning a trip in which the varied beauty of the city's surroundings can be enjoyed to advantage.

Loosey Boulevard furnishes the additional advantage of affording the best view possible of the city's most commanding natural feature—Granddod Bluff. It is the ideal beginning of a system calculated to permit the fullest enjoyment of a charmingly diversified environment.

The bugaboo of expense is an inconsiderable factor in the particular case. The boulevard has already been surveyed and the grade established. The city has the materials on hand for the work. The labor is the only item of added expense which the improvement involves. It is to be hoped that the manifest advantages of the proposition will bring a favorable report on the measure from the council committee to which it has been referred.

FIRST LINK IN A BOULEVARD CHAIN

Among the municipal improvements which give Minneapolis the individual charm for which it is noted among the family of American cities, there is no feature more appreciated by residents and visitors alike than the linked chain of picturesque drives which embroider the edges of the city. The possibilities of natural beauty are perhaps greater about the lakes of Minneapolis than in the majority of cities, but all of the progressive communities of the nation are concentrating upon the development of boulevard systems utilizing to the utmost degree the scenic advantages of their locations.

This is the age of the automobile and the popularity of its use is steadily growing. Machines are no longer expensive toys for the rich; they are the business and pleasure vehicles of the man in moderate circumstances. The city which fails to consider the increasing commonness of motor-driven vehicles in planning its extensions and improvements is overlooking a circumstance of considerable and growing importance.

La Crosse has right now an opportunity to form the nucleus of a well-designed system of attractive drives, in the proposition to open Loosey Boulevard from La Crosse Street to Market street. The construction of a good drive between these points would give automobiles, motorcyclists and horse-owners the

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

Life's Shop Window
I walked into the shop and said to Life,
Who stood behind the counter,
Very bland.
"Now give me, please, one of those pretty hearts."
He wrapped it up and placed it in my hand.
But as I went, he called me back and said:
"These goods, you understand, aren't warranted."

When, older, I returned and ventured in:
"So beautiful your window, Life, I'm bound
It will bring joy to me to purchase here."
"Ah, well, my dear," said he,
"pray look around—
My glittering display attracts the eye.
The things inside are what folks needs must buy."

How different, darker was his dingy store
From that bright window I had oft looked through!
Amid the dim recesses of his stock
In vain I searched, for all was one drab hue.
At length I stole away into the night,
For Life was busy, and forgot me quite:

Years afterwards I came again; I knew
That what I wanted Life would not display;
Eying his close-packed shelves I whispered low,
Life shook his head and motioned me away:
"The world asks me for that without surcease!
'Tis Death, across the way, who deals in peace."
—Ethel H. Wolff in New York Times.

No Sympathy
The young man seemed greatly agitated, not to say frightened, as he approached the father of the "dearest girl on earth."
"Sir, your daughter has promised to become my wife."
"Well, don't come to me for sympathy, you might know something would happen to you, hanging around our house five nights a week."

Papa Hears a Grouch
Nell—Jack dear, did you call on papa today?
Jack—Sure I did, but he didn't appear to enthuse very much over my visit.
Nell—What did he say?
Jack—Why, when I asked him for permission to press my suit, he simply answered, "Why don't you send it to a tailor?"—Judge.

W. Delphenick, 1718 Badger street, La Crosse, says: "My back gave out three years ago and from morning until night, I suffered from misery over my kidneys. I was delivering milk at that time and could hardly get in and out of the wagon. Someone told me that Doan's Kidney Pills would cure me and I tried them. They lived up to the claims made for them and soon removed every sign of pain in my back. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me to stay cured. His Fly Trap
A certain patrol wagon driver takes great pride in his horses and on a number of annual inspections has won the prize for the best looking team. As the story goes, the inspector of the district is in the habit of visiting the barns and passing compliments on the condition of the stables.
The particular man in question during the last summer was always certain of compliments and his stable left nothing to be desired in the way of cleanliness. One day as the inspector was taking a last look at the premises, which seemed spotlessly neat and clean, he frowned.
His eye chanced to fall on a cobweb in a dim corner of one of the stalls. The horse lover saw the inspector's face change and also the cause of it. He spoke up quickly:
"I keep that there web, inspector," he said, "to catch the flies. The way they torment that mare is something terrible."

Mrs. Peters looked down in dismay at her faded and mended wrapper, which had once cost ninety-eight cents.

"That's all right," he complimented her. "You're dressed good enough for me, and it's nobody else's business."

"Father, she simply can't go that way," insisted Jessie.

"She can put on her long coat," he reminded them. "Nobody can tell what you have on underneath."

"She'd know, though," retorted Jessie. "Come on, mother, I'll help you dress."

"Be ready in five minutes, then," directed little Henry, looking at his watch in a fever of impatience, as he realized what golden opportunities were slipping away, minute by minute. The other little Henry Peterses of the city had beaten him to the gold mines, and he was most unhappy.

In fifteen minutes, Mrs. Peters, with red eyes, came out of the bedroom, but little Henry did not notice that she had been crying. He opened the door and darted out. There was a car in the next block. Mrs. Peters stopped on the step, and took a longing farewell of the place. She loved it, weatherboard by weatherboard, even to the fancy little cement triangle in the gable, with a queer pattern of atrociously colored broken glass.

"Hurry up!" called Henry, from the gate. "Do you want to miss this car?"

The car in question was crowded so full that it seemed to bulge, and half a block behind it was another one only half filled. Nevertheless, little Henry crowded his wife on the first one, and watched the fare register click in a satisfaction so profound that it neutralized his discomfort. The conductor, when he took little Henry's fare, passed by a man who had gotten on at the same corner, and Henry wedged out after him to tell him about it. That nickel went to make up his seven per cent and his increase in stock.

They arrived at the bank ten minutes too early, and waited outside the iron gate until it opened. In a trembling hand, Mrs. Peters signed her name in the places pointed out to her, and went home in a daze, but little Henry, richer by four thousand in his bank book, jammed his hat on the back of his head and hurried over to the office of the street-car company.

"Am I too late to take up any of that new stock?" he eagerly demanded.

"By half an hour," the stock clerk told him, with the necessary insolence of a man who, unaided, has accomplished a huge financial operation. "You want to wake up early to grab traction stock."

Little Henry was miserable.

"It serves me right!" he groaned.

"Who took it all?"

"Mail orders mostly," the clerk condescended to explain. "We're about six thousand oversubscribed."

Quite crestfallen, little Henry turned away. As he went through the outer office, Hunt followed him.

"I beg your pardon," said Hunt, smiling pleasantly. "Did you wish to buy some stock?"

"Four thousand," answered Henry, with renewed hope.

"Four thousand," repeated Hunt thoughtfully. "Um! I think I can get you that much!"

"Thank you!" returned Henry gratefully. "Can you get it right away?"

"At about two o'clock," promised Hunt, looking cautiously back toward the main office. "Give me your address, and I'll send it around to you."

Eagerly and thankfully, little Henry wrote down his address, and Hunt, explaining that the stock was to be secured from a man who was hard up for money, cautioned little Henry to say nothing about it, and glided back into the main office, leaving the odor of extract of heliotrope in his wake.

At two o'clock, little Henry received his forty shares from one John Tucker, and gave his four thousand dollars in exchange. At approximately the same hour, clerks of

MAKE THE BEST COUGH REMEDY AT HOME
Cheaper Than You Can Buy

When in need of a good remedy for severe stubborn coughs or colds, why not buy one which is guaranteed will be found the most satisfactory remedy you ever used, and get your money refunded by Geo. E. Mariner, druggist, in case it should not prove so, instead of buying one purely on the exaggerated claims of its manufacturer or on the strength of testimonials from others and run the chance of getting something worthless and also wasting your money? In buying Schiffmann's Concentrated Expectant, besides securing an absolute guarantee of its efficiency from these druggists, you also get about eight times as much excellent cough medicine as you would in buying most any of the old-fashioned, ready-made kinds, because 50 cents worth makes a whole pint when mixed at home with simply one pint of sugar and one-half pint water. This remedy positively does not contain chloroform, opium, morphine or any other narcotic. It is pleasant to take and children are fond of it. The above druggist will refund the money to any person who finds this remedy does not give perfect satisfaction, or if it is not found the very best ever used for coughs, colds, bronchitis, croup, whooping cough or hoarseness. You will be the sole judge, and under this positive guarantee absolutely no risk is run in buying this remedy. Druggists everywhere are authorized to sell it under the same guarantee, or order direct of R. J. Schiffmann, St. Paul, Minn.

John Tucker delivered stock to a widow who gave her insurance money for it, a boy who had fallen heir to enough to see him through college, a bricklayer who had worked all his life to save three thousand dollars, and a number of other members of the little Henry Peterses class. This was the Sledge stock which had been voted by Attorney John Tucker, and it brought one hundred dollars per share, in cash.

Jessie Peters and Dicky Reynolds came into little Henry's place of business immediately after Henry had secured his long-coveted stock, and found him in the happiest possible state of mind.

"Hello, Dicky," he hailed young Reynolds, with more than the usual cordiality he displayed toward that young man. "I got the stock, Jessie."

"What stock is that?" asked Dicky. "Oh, yes, the new traction. Well, it ought to be good, I guess. I understand they plan some big improvements, and we certainly need them."

"It's the most solid investment in the city," boasted little Henry. "I had to use all my influence to get these forty shares. I don't know whether there's any left, but I'll try, if you'd like some."

"No, thanks!" laughed Dicky, exchanging a glance with Jessie, whereat she blushed. "We're going to buy that house in Willisburg, Jessie and I."

"Well, I'll declare!" exclaimed little Henry, blinking at both of them.

"Yes; that's what we came in to tell you," went on Dicky, slipping his arm about Jessie's shoulders, and drawing her comfortably to him. "We settled it in Maberly's candy store, about half an hour ago, over an ice-cream soda."

"Well, I'll declare!" repeated little Henry, still dazed.

Jessie took her father's face between her hands, and kissed him.

"It's quite true, father," she assured him, blushing prettily, and turning fond eyes to Dicky. "He asked me to marry him right at a soda fountain. I didn't want to answer there, but he made me, and when I finally said 'yes,' he leaned right over and kissed me, in front of everybody, and they all laughed, and a Frenchman clapped his hands and said 'Voilà!'"

Dicky, laughing, stopped that furiously blushing narrative by kissing her again, whereat little Henry, though polite without, was slightly uncomfortable. He had never been so silly in public.

"I hope you will be very happy," he congratulated them, shaking Dicky by the hand. "She is a good girl, Dicky, and you must be very kind to her."

"How could I help it?" returned

Dicky, taking Jessie away from her father, and restoring her to that snug place against his side.

TO BUILD MANY "JITNEY BUSES" TO MEET DEMAND

TOLEDO, Ohio, Feb. 4.—Encouraged over the 'bus situation in various cities of the country where the 'bus has been tried, directors and sales managers of the Studebaker corporation at a meeting at South Bend, Ind., on Monday and Tuesday decided to build 500 jitney buses immediately, it was announced here. The buses will have a carrying capacity of twelve people, will be enclosed from the engine exhaust, side entrance and will be so arranged that they can be opened in summer.

DRIFT CRUSHES CAB

OSHKOSH, Wis., Feb. 4.—Paul Leitz, a Northwestern railroad engineer living at Antigo, was slightly injured on the Hortonville branch out of here on Tuesday. He was shoving a snowplow through when the plow struck a pack. The engine cab was crushed in and Leitz was knocked senseless for a few minutes.

It Stops Itching Instantly, and Clears Away Unpleasant Eruptions.

If your skin itches and burns with eczema or any such tormenting, unsightly skin disease, simply wash the sore places with Resinol Soap and hot water, dry, and apply a little Resinol Ointment. The itching stops INSTANTLY, you no longer have to dig and scratch, sleep becomes possible, and healing begins at once. That is because the soothing, antiseptic Resinol medication strikes right into the surface, arrests the action of the disease, and almost always restores the tortured, inflamed skin to perfect health—quickly, easily and at little cost.
Prescribed by doctors for twenty years, and sold by every druggist.

A GOOD WAY TO SHAMPOO
Shampoo with Resinol Soap, rubbing its lather thoroughly into the scalp, so as to work in the soothing, healing Resinol medication. This almost always stops dandruff and scalp itching, and keeps the hair live, thick and lustrous.

Out of Sorts

THAT IS, something is wrong with baby, but we can't tell just what it is. All mothers recognize the term by the lassitude, weakness, loss of appetite, inclination to sleep, heavy breathing, and lack of interest shown by baby. These are the symptoms of sickness. It may be fever, congestion, worms, croup, diphtheria, or scarlatina. Do not lose a minute. Give the child Castoria. It will start the digestive organs into operation, open the pores of the skin, carry off the foetid matter, and drive away the threatened sickness.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Charles H. Fletcher

Here's a Joy Jar of Real Tobacco

Here's the greatest package of smoke satisfaction that any man ever lifted the cover from. It's full of Prince Albert, the real no-bite, no-blister brand of smokin's for pipe and cigarette. P. A. has got the bulge on every tobacco that's ever been sold or ever will be, because the bite's taken out by a patented process that leaves P. A. as easy on the tongue as a song of gladness.

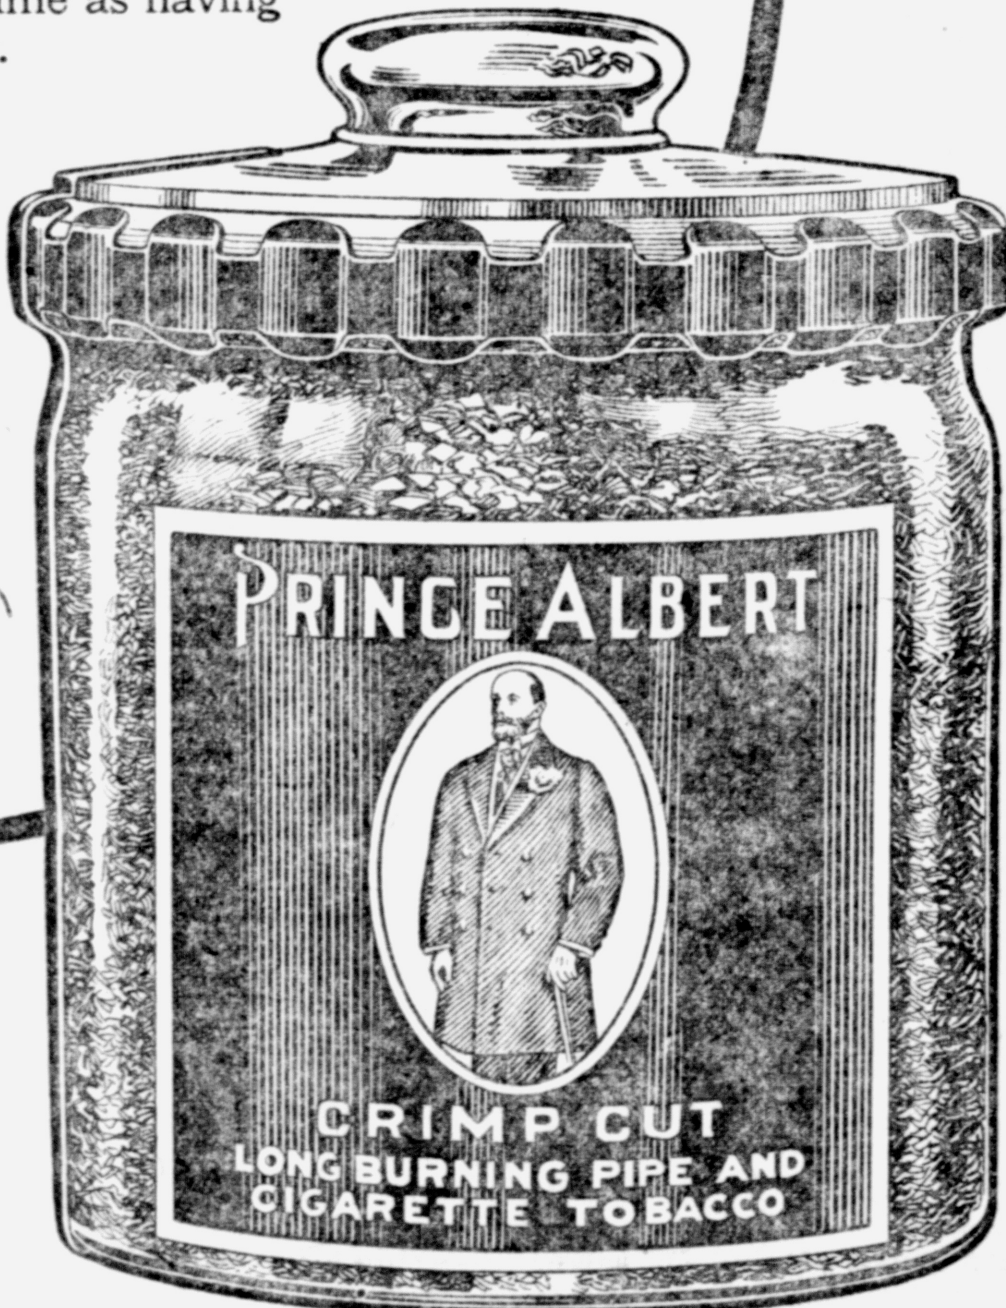

PRINCE ALBERT

the national joy smoke

is the real prize winner in the ten-cent tidy red tin and the five-cent tippy red bag, but when a fellow has a pound crystal-glass humidor of P. A. it's just the same as having a sockful of boodle in reserve for a rainy day.

Time to replace that empty jar with a full one of P. A.

That humidor of tobacco you got for Xmas must be running mighty low just about now. If you haven't got a good supply of P. A. in the crystal-glass jar with the sponge in the cover that keeps it fresh and fragrant for pipe and cigarette-fit all the time, go to it and invest today.

Sold at stores where they sell tobacco.

MIGRATORY BIRDS GET LEASE OF LIFE

Migratory birds in this section of Wisconsin will have better protection hereafter than ever before, declares Congressman John J. Esch, in a letter to The Tribune today.

According to Mr. Esch, test cases of the federal law prohibiting the slaying of song birds and other feathered birds of value, such as robins, mockingbirds, blue jays and others which fly south in winter, being made in the supreme court, several such cases pending in this state.

"We have a force of about twenty district inspectors," says Mr. Esch, "and 175 co-operating wardens. One of these inspectors, E. A. Cleasby of Portage, who has charge of the states of Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota, is doing excellent work. We have also six or seven deputies recommended by the state warden of Wisconsin, who are co-operating with the department."

"On the whole, the federal law has been very generally observed, particularly in the northwest, and seems to have the support of all except those who are restive under restrictions of any sort."

N. S. LIBRARY SITE AGAIN A PUZZLE

Milwaukee Bishop Refuses to Approve of Sale of Avon Street Property

North side backers of the new library idea will have to look for another location if they expect to pull the plan through.

Rev. William Everett Johnson of Christ Episcopal church today announced that Bishop W. W. Webb, D. D., of Milwaukee refuses to sell the church property on Avon street. Bishop Webb was written with regard to the transfer of the property from the diocese to the city following action taken by the North Side Progressive league at their January meeting, naming Alfred Foster, J. F. Saltz and Rev. Finch A. Clarke a committee to take steps to secure a larger branch of the public library for the north side.

STORM'S DAMAGE STILL A HINDRANCE

Railroad Yards of City Full of Cars Which Cannot Be Sent East; Wires Partly Patched Up

Freight and passenger trains on the east end of the Milwaukee road are still forced to pick their way carefully along the line, on account of the damage done the automatic block system and the telegraph service in Monday's storm. Hundreds of poles which went down during the blizzard are yet to be replaced.

Telegraphic communication between Portage and Milwaukee was resumed yesterday after three days silence. A line of insulated cable was strung around the storm swept portions of the line, making the dispatching of trains possible.

Railroad yards in the city are congested with cars, especially on the Milwaukee. Inability to move trains east until yesterday caused the congested condition. It is still impossible to send trains east to keep up with the influx from the north, west and south.

The special repair crew of the Western Union company, which has been working for more than a month between La Crosse and Portage, was called to the east end of the La Crosse division Monday to help in the work of repairing the damage to the company's lines between Milwaukee and Portage.

Traffic on the Portage-Madison line of the Milwaukee road was held up from Monday until yesterday afternoon. Madison passengers from Portage reached their destination by way of Watertown, a detour of about fifty miles.

Mrs. Christ Limpert and Mrs. Carl Schaefer will entertain the Ladies' Society of Immanuel Lutheran church at 2 o'clock in the church parlors, St. Paul and Avon streets.

BREAKS A COLD IN A FEW HOURS WITHOUT QUININE

First dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" relieves all grippe misery.

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffling! A dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" taken every two hours until three doses are taken will end grippe misery and break up a severe cold either in the head, chest, body or limbs.

It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages; stops nasty discharge or nose running; relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

"Pape's Cold Compound" is the quickest, surest relief known and costs only 25 cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Don't accept a substitute.

SEES HOSPITAL BEFORE FIGHTING

Canadian Trooper Brother of North Side Woman Is Laid up in London with Pneumonia

Ten days in a London hospital with pneumonia, before his troop went into the war zone on the Continent, were spent by William Galbraith of Gault, Ontario, brother of Mrs. Edgar S. Bott, 1218 Caledonia street. Galbraith is with the first Canadian contingent which left for England late in the fall.

Galbraith contracted the disease at Salisbury Plain, the great military camp of the English, eighty miles from London. Heavy rains in December flooded the camp.

Galbraith is now at the front his relatives believe. No word has been heard from him since he left the London hospital, but his contingent was ordered to the continent the first of the year.

The man whose expenses are paid is apt to make them fairly high.

THE BEST THING FOR DYSPEPSIA

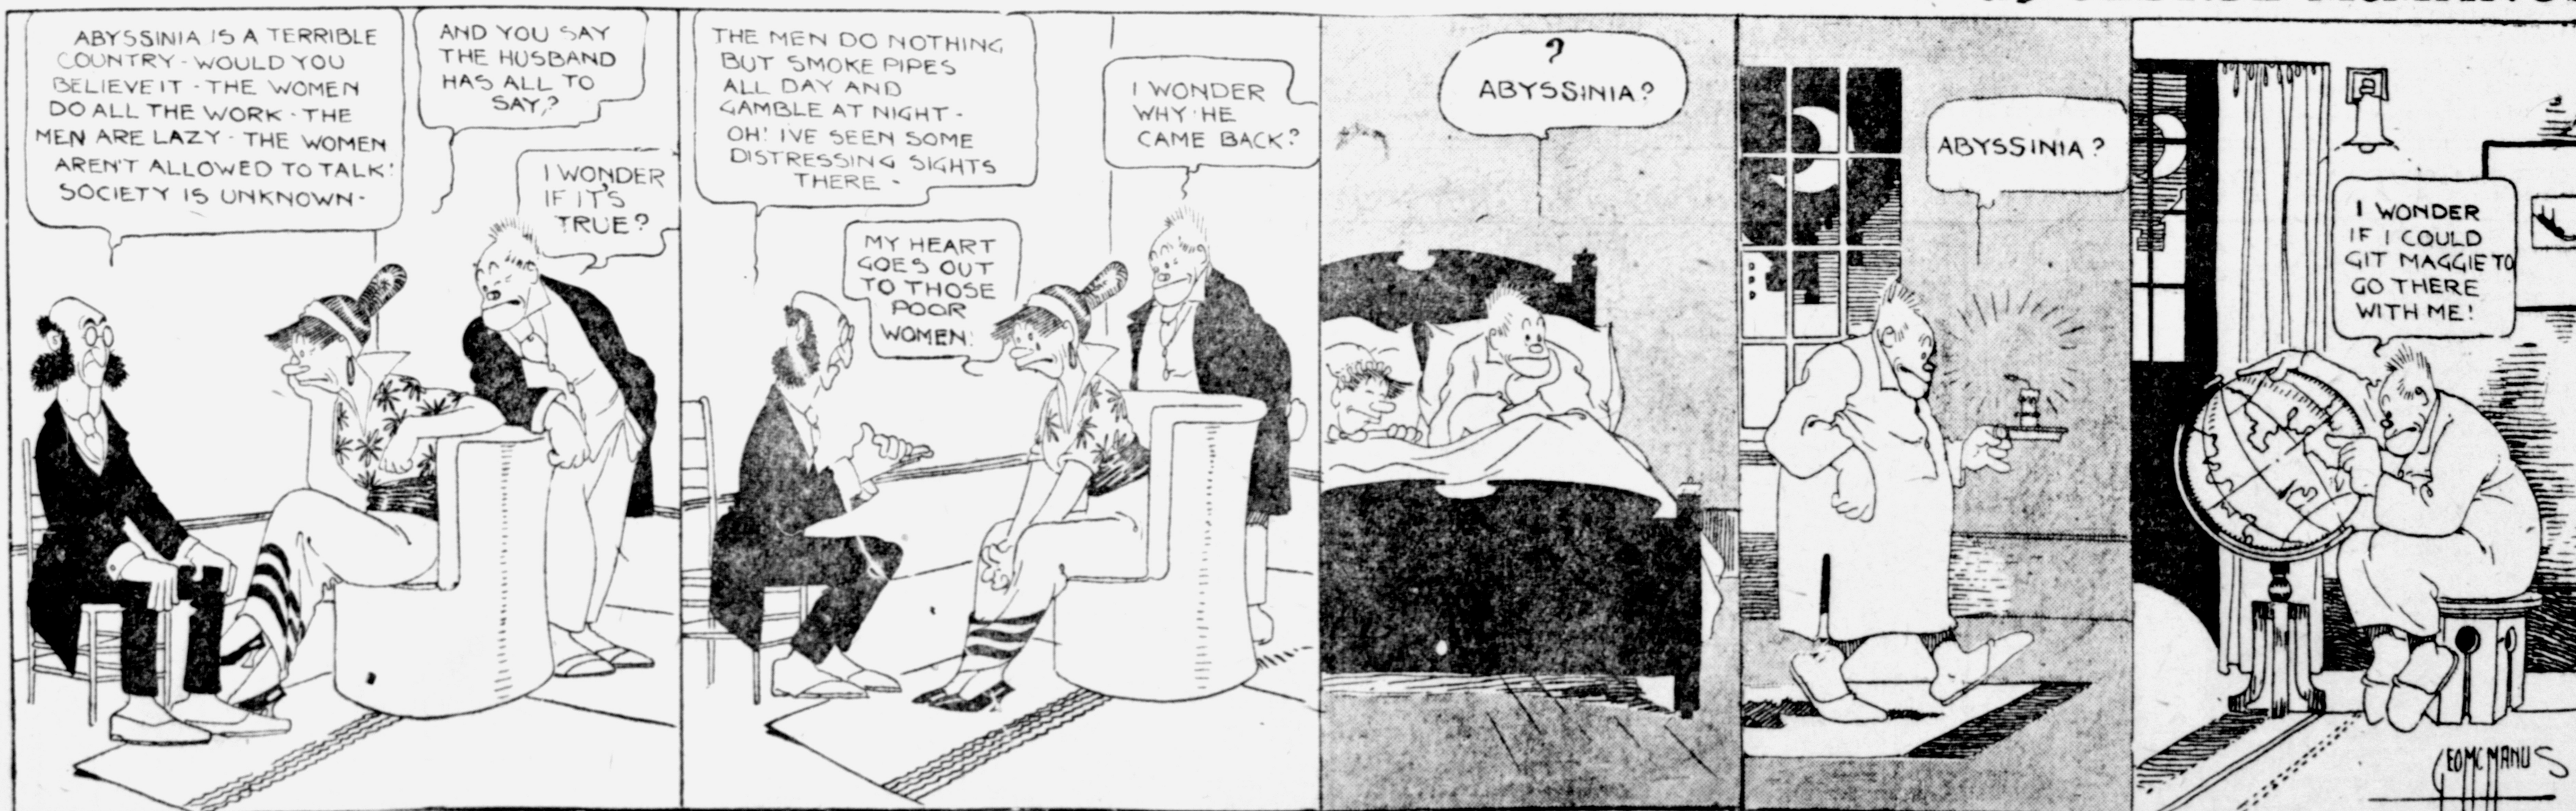

WHY PEPsin, PANCREATIN, ETC., SO FREQUENTLY FAIL.

An international specialist whose articles on stomach trouble have been printed in nearly every language, recently stated that to treat the average case of stomach trouble, indigestion, dyspepsia, etc., by doctoring the stomach, killing the pain with opiates, or by the use of artificial aids to digestion such as pepsin and pancreatin, was just as foolish and useless as to attempt to put out a fire by throwing water on the smoke, instead of the fire. He claims, and facts seem to justify his claim, that nearly nine-tenths of all stomach trouble is due to acidity and food fermentation; and that the only way in which to secure permanent relief is to get rid of the cause, i. e. to neutralize the acid and stop the fermentation. For this purpose he strongly recommends the plan now generally adopted throughout Europe of taking a teaspoonful of ordinary bismarcked magnesia in a little water immediately after eating or whenever pain is felt. This immediately neutralizes the acid, stops the fermentation and permits the stomach to do its work in a normal manner and thus by removing the cause, enables nature to quickly restore the inflamed stomach lining to a perfectly healthy natural condition. For the convenience of travelers it may be noted that most druggists are now able to supply bismarcked magnesia in 5 grain tablets, 2 or 3 of which will almost instantly relieve the most violent attacks of indigestion.

PLUNK TO STRETCH ON "DOLLAR DAY"

Every Merchant in City to Participate in Big Bargain Day Sales

La Crosse merchants are looking over their stocks preparatory to the dollar day sale event, which will be participated in by every merchant in the city.

Dollar Day will be full of significance to those who want to make their money stretch as far as possible, for on this day the purchasing power of the dollar will be greatly increased, and those who are looking for genuine bargains will "teach their dollars to have more cents" by patronizing the merchants liberally on this day above all others.

In order that people living in the outside towns and villages may be able to take advantage of the bargains that will be advertised on Dollar Day, the paper containing the advertisements will be published two days in advance. The date for Dollar Day has been tentatively set for Wednesday, Feb. 17, but this date is subject to change within the next few days if the majority of merchants see good reasons for choosing some other day. The paper containing the advertisements will appear on Monday; thus the out-of-town subscribers will be able to get to La Crosse in time to avail themselves of the many bargains to be offered that day.

Dollar Day has proven to be a big success in other towns, and it is believed that its inauguration in La Crosse will make it so popular that it will become an established semi-annual sale event.

MAY GIVE UNCLE SAM HOLY LAND

European Nations Are Too Jealous of Each Other to Let One of Selves Grab Palestine

ENGLAND WOULD TAKE CHARGE

Other Nations Disapprove and U. S. Control May Be Solution

BY H. M. SARLE

LONDON, Jan. 29.—By Mail to New York.—"Who is going to have Palestine when the war is over?" is one of the questions which is already beginning to worry the Allied Association of New Map Makers, and the responsive query "Shall it be the United States?" is receiving more consideration than, at first thought, might seem possible.

Whatever happens to Germany and Austria, the allies determined that Turkey shall be pushed completely off the map of Europe, and off the greater part of Asia Minor, and there will be a rare old scramble for "leg portions" when the Ottoman bird is carved.

Certain portions of the turkey have already been hooked, England has annexed Egypt and Cyprus, and will almost certainly insist on retaining that part of the Persian gulf and Euphrates valley captured by the Anglo-Indian troops. Arabia won't be much use to anybody, as its inhabitants are a bit too lively for Christian government, and anyway, England could not afford to have any other nation planted along the route to India. Russia will grab most of Asia Minor and northern Persia, and there only remain Syria and the Holy Land.

Palestine came under Turkish dominion in 1516, after the war between the Ottoman sultan and the Egyptian Mamelukes, and for 300 years the sanguinary quarrels of the landed shiekhs, and the never-ending exaction of Oriental grafters kept the country in a state of chaos and depression. In 1840 the power of the Shiekhs was broken and the Turks began to strengthen their hold, but although they have done much for the improvement of the country, the blight of Ottoman rule still oppresses the "land of milk and honey," and keeps fertile plains and valleys sterile.

At first sight it would appear to be the simplest plan to grant the Zionists' appeal for a Jewish state, but there are difficulties in the way. If there were the nuclei of a Jewish administration in the country, it might be easier, but there are not, and the Zionist movement has not led to any great stream of Jewish immigration. There has been but little agricultural, political or other development among the Jews in Palestine, and the Zionist leaders were, perhaps, more impelled by the desire to restore the ancient religion in the Holy Places.

Right here the Christian powers would object strongly. Tolerant has never been very marked in Palestine, but with the Turks in control the Holy Places were at least kept by neutrals. Neither the Roman Catholic Greek Orthodox, nor Protestant churches would permit one denomination to obtain absolute control over the places which are holy to them all, and it is clear that there must be neutral or joint administration. A Christian state, under British protection, is England's idea of the solution, on the ground that Great Britain has had more experience in governing peoples of various races and creeds, but the other nations will naturally protest that England is grabbing more than her share of the plunder.

A neutral state guaranteed by all the great powers, order being kept by, and the guardianship of the Holy Place entrusted to an international gendarmerie, is another suggested solution, but recent experiences of international control, in Macedonia, Crete, Albania, etc., do not promise the elimination of friction. Looking round, then, for an impartial administrator, removed from the whirlpool of European politics and religious squabbles, the powers may find no more satisfactory candidate for the job than America. It is pointed out that the United States has for many years taken a leading part in missionary and educational work in Asia Minor and no country has displayed more enthusiasm with less idea of personal aggrandizement. Hence, the possibility of the stars and stripes waving over Jerusalem is by no means remote, according to "international dopesters" here.

COMMITTEE FOR BOSSHARD PLAN

Will Report Favorably on Resolution of Protest Against Shipment of Arms

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 4.—By a vote of 5 to 3, the senate committee on education and public welfare yesterday afternoon voted to recommend for adoption the Boshard joint resolution protesting against the shipment of arms, ammunition and contraband of war to the nations of Europe engaged in war. Senator Perry, chairman of the committee, voted against the resolution, but said he would submit no minority report.

INSANE SCHOOL IN OHIO ASYLUM

MASSILLON, Ohio, Feb. 4.—Patients at the state hospital here are pupils in one of the first schools for the insane ever established. The object is to endeavor to improve the mental condition of the patients. The theory is that mental exercise is the best stimulus for diseased minds, just as physical exercise is supposed to promote development of the body.

Supt. H. C. Eymann, originator of the plan, today said he found a vast degree of mental range among the patients. Some are surprisingly bright; others inconceivably dull and unable to assimilate any sort of instruction. The plan is to enroll as many as possible in the unique school although the courses taught will be rudimentary. The wards are divided into classes and each class is given instruction appropriate to its own degree of mental development.

"The pupils are just the same as grown up children," said Dr. Eymann. "Their bodies have grown up, but their minds are those of children."

"The school work has this primary advantage, it keeps the minds of the patients engaged and thus aids those whose condition is aggravated by constant brooding and worry. Besides it keeps busy those who otherwise would not be occupied."

NEW AND OLD HITS IN HOWARD'S ACT

Famous Composer Will Sing His Newest Ballads and Any of His Old Favorites Requested

An opportunity of hearing the newest of the new songs, some of which may be tomorrow's favorite hits, and the best of the popular successes of a decade, sung by the man who wrote them, will be given to Majestic theater patrons this evening, when Howard and McCane open their much heralded engagement here.

Mr. Howard, who is the most successful popular composer of the day, has an act that by himself is conceded to be one of the best in the world of varieties. To this is added an extra feature of more than usual interest—Mr. Howard's agreement to sing for La Crosse audiences any one of his famous song hits.

Howard and McCane's engagement marks the opening of the new policy recently announced by the Majestic management. The recognized leaders of vaudeville profession have been booked by Manager Koppelberg, to appear in La Crosse in rapid succession, and vaudeville patrons may look forward to the most brilliant series of entertainments it has been their good fortune to see in La Crosse.

KILLED STEALING BREAD

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Feb. 4.—Caught stealing a loaf of bread, Dominick Margold, Jr., a youth, was shot and killed early on Tuesday by Jos. Findure, University road grocer.

The body was picked up with the bread clamped tightly to the lad's breast. The grocer also fired at a companion of Margold, Jr., but he escaped.

The dead youth's home had been quarantined because of diphtheria and his raid on the grocery store was for food. The grocer lived above the store.

Why is POSTUM Replacing Coffee?

People are waking up to the harmful effects of the powerful drug—caffeine—in coffee, which poisons the system, often resulting in nervousness, heart flutter, headache, biliousness and many other ills and discomforts.

The pure food-drink, Postum, is absolutely drug-free—made only of the choicest wheat and a bit of wholesome molasses. It contains no caffeine or other harmful elements.

If you doubt that coffee hurts you, a sure test is to leave it off for 10 days and use Postum. It's an easy change, too, for Postum tastes much like the mild, high-grade Javas. As the coffee-drug is eliminated from your system, your own feelings will suggest Postum and better health.

Postum comes in two forms: Regular Postum—must be boiled, 15c and 25c packages; Instant Postum—soluble form, made in the cup with hot water instantly, 30c and 50c tins.

Both kinds are equally delicious, and the cost per cup is about the same.

SISTER-IN-LAW NOW SEPARATION EXCUSE

Husband's Relatives Are Blamed for Woman's Desertion of Spouse in County Court

Whether a sister-in-law who is a "nag" and a "pest" is sufficient cause for not living with your husband will have to be decided in county court when Julius Sill is arraigned for deserting his young wife this afternoon.

Sill was arrested at Victory, Wis., prior to Dec. 9, 1914, when he was given preliminary hearing in county court and charged with wife desertion.

According to the wife's testimony, her husband wanted her to live at the home of his sister at Victory, which she did for a time.

"That woman is nothing but a nag," she told Judge Brindley. "I cannot live with her."

Mrs. Sill came to La Crosse, and her husband remained at Victory. She then charged he deserted her. "It may be a case for a jury to decide," said Judge Brindley today.

Physician's Skin Remedy

Dr. Holmes, the well-known skin specialist, writes:
"I am convinced that the D. D. D. Prescription is as much a specific for Eczema as quinine for malaria. I have been prescribing the D. D. D. remedy for years. This soothing compound of oil of wintergreen and other healing ingredients gives instant relief the moment it is applied. It sinks through the pores, kills and throws off the gnawing disease germs and quickly heals the inflamed tissues. All cases of skin disease, mild or violent, yield to this soothing liquid wash."

let yield to this soothing liquid wash. All druggists sell D. D. D. 50c and $1.00. A generous trial bottle for only 25c. Come in and let us tell you about our money back guarantee that D. D. D. will do what is claimed. You will be the judge. Ask about D. D. D. Soap. Its steady use keeps the skin always healthy.

MANY FARMERS IN LOCAL CO-OP PLAN

First Report of Vice President Anticipates 1,000 Members Before Year End; Prices Are Cut

Three hundred farmers in the La Crosse territory are now buying and selling their farm products and supplies from the Farmers' Co-operative Market company, which opened two warehouses here a month ago. Others are becoming interested in the plan to eliminate "middlemen" and are joining the forces every day. One thousand farmers are expected to join the army of "Co-op's" in a short time.

A. C. Godfrey, vice president of the La Crosse branch of the American Society of Equity, and manager of the market company will present these figures in the first month's report of the business at the first annual meeting of the Farmers' Co-operative Market company of La Crosse next Tuesday.

Already farmers are obtaining the bran and shorts, and other cattle feed from the concern at prices which range from $1.50 to $2 lower than the present market price.

The local concern is not in the retail business, and has for its aim the furnishing to the farmer of everything he needs to conduct his farming "business." Through the co-operative plan, no matter how much stock a member owns, he can have but one vote in the affairs of the company. Others, who are not members of the market company, may purchase supplies, although at the regular market prices.

Farmers are now purchasing gasoline from the company at but little more than one-half the market price. Harvester oils come to them several cents cheaper per gallon.

ANTI-CATHOLIC LECTURER AND CALLER SHOT DEAD

William Black, Former Priest, Visited by Marshall, Texas, Men and Shooting Follows

MARSHALL, Texas, Feb. 5.—Wm. Black, a traveling lecturer, and John Rogers, a contractor, are dead, and John Copeland, cashier of a local bank, is not expected to live as the result of a shooting affray here early last night in Black's room at a hotel.

Black, who claimed he formerly was a priest of the Roman Catholic church, yesterday delivered a lecture here, in which he attacked that church. He advertised he would speak again.

Black, his daughter and F. S. Hall, a companion of Black, were in Black's room, when Rogers, Copeland and another local man visited them. The shooting followed. Hall was held by the police in connection with the affair.

F. R. A. VAUDEVILLE ON STAGE TONIGHT

German comedy, singing and dancing specialties, vocal solos, orchestra numbers and other features will be presented this evening by the F. R. A. in their vaudeville program to be held in their rooms in Linker hall.

Local talent is being used entirely in the program, many of the players having been members of the cast of "An Aunt for a Day," the original production of A. C. Radke staged here last fall.

Pools oftentimes rush in and win while wise men investigate.

RIVERMEN COME TOTALK TERMINALS TOMORROW NIGHT

Advantages to La Crosse of Six Foot Channel's Commerce to Be Pictured

COURT ROOM IS ENGAGED

City Council and All Commercial Bodies Invite Citizens to Hear Illustrated Lectures

Unless the Mississippi river is opened to the commerce of the Panama canal, the Midland empire of which the Twin Cities are the center will be destroyed as a manufacturing section, excepting for strictly local purposes. The water rate will be but a small fraction of the rail rate. This is the judgment of the leaders of the northwest commerce and industry.—Alderman William Torrance.

All La Crosse is expected to turn out en-masse tomorrow night to hear the lectures of Captain Charles Campbell and Captain Thomas Wilkinson on development of the upper Mississippi river. The addresses will be made at the circuit court room of the court house.

The lectures will be accompanied by stereopticon views by Captain Campbell, showing development of the rivers in Germany and on the continent and various systems of utilizing the streams for commercial purposes. Trolley boats propelled by electricity as street cars in La Crosse are driven, mule drawn canal boats and other freight carriers of Europe and our own country will be shown.

Admission will be free. The lectures will begin at 8 o'clock and it is the aim of the committees which have brought the speakers to La Crosse to demonstrate to citizens here the advantage of the six foot channel will bring to cities along the Mississippi river by opening up a new waterway to the Pacific coast through the Panama canal, whereby freight rates can be reduced one-half, and cheapening freight rates generally.

La Crosse as a terminal distributing point for the district to the east and west reached by her railroads, is expected to be benefited more than any other city of the upper river, barring possibly Davenport and the Twin cities, which open larger territories.

Tomorrow's lecture is under the auspices of the La Crosse city council, the La Crosse board of trade, the La Crosse Manufacturers' and Jobbers' club and the Progressive league. All citizens are urged to attend.

ENGAGEMENT A JOKE SAYS YOUNG WOMAN

Announcement of the alleged engagement of Miss Arabella Sullivan, 317 Mill street, to M. P. Platt, of Coon Valley, might have been considered a joke by persons who brought it to the newspapers but Miss Arabella declares it is not true—not a word of it. So the joke is on the newspapers.

Furthermore Miss Sullivan, who is one of the young society women of North La Crosse, declares she has never heard of the alleged or proposed groom and she declares she doubts there is such a person. Besides, Miss Sullivan asserts she has no immediate intention of getting married. Therefore Mr. Platt's hopes are dashed with a big dash, if there is a Mr. Platt, she says.

GETS DIGNIFIED NAME

Because every one made fun of his name and refused to use any but his first name, Joseph Alois Hajzl, La Crosse, a native of Chotusic, Bohemia, was today allowed to change his name to Joseph Alois Hartzer. "I want to become Americanized, too," he told Judge Brindley.

CUPID COMES BACK THREE COUPLES WED

Prophecy of Groundhog Is Verified by Love God; License Clerk Is Rushed

Whether the groundhog's prophecy of an early spring, or the loneliness of Bert A. Jolivet, county clerk, brought Cupid back to the court house leading three blushing couples today, is a question. All Mr. Jolivet knows is that he was rushed for time when he issued the licenses.

Those taking out licenses were W. J. Roth, Los Angeles, Cal., and Helen Stangl, La Crosse; William Wehrhahn, Rock Haven, Saskatchewan, Canada, and Miss Wanda Rupp, La Crosse; James T. Leary, Gratiot, Wis., and Miss Helen Taylor, West Salem.

Rev. H. Toeller will marry Mr. Roth and Miss Stangl, and Rev. Julius T. Gamm will officiate for Mr. Wehrhahn and Miss Rupp. The other couple will wed at West Salem.

LIQUOR MEN TRY TO KEEP DITTMAN

Object to Resignation Offered This Afternoon by Secretary; Fight On at 3:30 P. M.

At 3:30 o'clock this afternoon members of the La Crosse Retail Liquor Dealers' association, meeting at the Eagles' club rooms, were objecting to the resignation of C. H. Dittman, secretary of the association.

A fight was in progress to keep Mr. Dittman, who is also secretary and manager of the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

Because of his added duties in the lodge owing to the state convention which meets in La Crosse in June, Mr. Dittman was forced to resign the liquor dealers' office.

MRS. ANNA HAYES CALLED BY DEATH

Mrs. Anna Hayes, aged 54 years, died this morning at her home, 1123 Avon street, of anaemia, with which she had been ill for three years.

Surviving her are four children: Ethel and Leslie Hayes, Georgia Fay and Mrs. M. E. Evenson; one brother, Walter Pertsch of the town of Campbell, and two sisters, one living at Galesville and the other at Wabasha.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the home and at 2:30 at Immanuel Lutheran church. Rev. Julius Bergholz officiating. Burial will take place in Oak Grove cemetery.

WHEAT BULGES

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—A moderately strong demand for wheat sent grain up from 3-4 to 1-8c at today's opening over yesterday's close. Continuation of the interrupted communication with Canada and news that Australia soon would want a great deal of wheat together with cables to the effect that much of the Argentine crop would be delayed at the piers until April, caused a bulge upward. The advance was regular until May wheat reached $1.64 5-8 and July option $1.41 1-2.

LADIES ENTERTAIN AT "500"

Mrs. F. J. Nalin and Mrs. A. Grams entertained fifty ladies at "five hundred" at the Germania hall Tuesday afternoon. Prizes were won by Mrs. C. Bauer and Mrs. Homer Hart. Assisting ladies were Mrs. H. Hart, Mrs. John Elliott, Miss A. Grams and Miss Elizabeth George.

ENGLAND DEMANDS BRIDGE DYNAMITER

Wants to Punish Van Horn, but Requisition May Now Fail Because of U. S. Treaty

ACT NOT COMMITTED IN CANADA

Asserts It Was Political and Therefore He Cannot Be Given Up

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—The British ambassador, Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, filed a formal request at the state department yesterday for the extradition to Canada of Werner Van Horn, alleged to be a former German officer charged with an attempt to blow up the Canadian end of the railway bridge between Vanceborough, Me., and St. Croix, N. B.

Secretary of State Bryan referred the application for extradition to Cone Johnson, solicitor of the state department and the department says it will make no reply to Great Britain until it shall have received the report from the United States commissioner, who will be designated by the department of justice to make the usual preliminary examination. The demand for extradition by the British ambassador is based on the criminal code of New Brunswick on the supplemental extradition treaty of 1900 between the United States and Great Britain.

The New Brunswick criminal code declares "every one is guilty of an indictable offense and liable to life imprisonment, who unlawfully with intent to injure or endanger the safety of any person traveling or being on any railway, injures or destroys any train, building or fence of said railroad or any portion thereof."

The clause of the treaty of 1900 which makes Van Horn's alleged offense extraditable is in the language "willful and unlawful destruction or obstruction of railroads which endangers human life."

From the state department's standpoint the extradition proposition hinged largely on the construction of the word "political" in the extradition treaty of 1889, which says "a fugitive shall not be surrendered if the offense in respect of which his surrender is demanded be of a political character."

It was pointed out by international law experts that in case the Ottawa government succeeds in proving that Van Horn committed an ordinary crime and is subject to extradition the German can hardly be dealt with in Canada as a spy, as on that basis he will be a political offender.

The German embassy when asked whether Van Horn's name was on the list of the kaiser's retired army officers, replied that no such list was published. Up to noon the case had not been placed formally in the state department hands, though it was expected the British ambassador would be heard from later.

Wanted Alleged Accomplice

Search is still being continued by the Canadian authorities on the other side of the river for the man whom Von Horn claims was his accomplice. The German asserts that he met him on the bridge by appointment. He stated that his accomplice was unknown to him and that identification was made by means of a pass-word. Only the snow and extreme cold weather, Van Horn declared, prevented him from completely demolishing the bridge.

LEG NOT BROKEN; E. H. DERR KICKING TO GET OUT SOON

"I am going to kick somebody with that 'broken leg' of mine in a day or so," said Eugene H. Derr, city sealer of weights and measures as he strolled down the hall at St. Francis hospital this morning.

Mr. Derr, who was injured in a collision with his automobile and a Milwaukee freight train Saturday night, would have left the hospital today if the weather would have permitted.

His leg, it was found, was not fractured, as was at first thought. He will be able to return to his duties in a short while. The leg was severely bruised at the knee and rest is required to heal it.

READY FOR MASK BALL

All arrangements are completed for the prize mask ball to be given by the B. A. Yeomen in Linker hall next Thursday evening. Tuesday evening the B. A. Yeomen held their regular meeting and took in a large class of candidates, the regular degree team conferring the full initiation work. After the meeting the hall was filled with members and invited friends who enjoyed dancing until after midnight. Hackbart's Yeomen orchestra of six pieces furnished excellent music for the occasion. In the afternoon the Rowena circle, B. A. Y., gave a card party for members and friends. Prizes were awarded to Mesdames Jolivet, Hart, Ash, Braun, Major and Orton. Next Tuesday the Rowena circle will hold its regular meeting. A pound party will be given for a needy member.

DUTIES OF HOME ARE PARAMOUNT SAYS EVANGELIST

Obligations of Lodge, Country and Church Secondary to Those of the Family

"The meanest man in La Crosse," said Evangelist Asher last night at the revival meeting at the La Crosse Rescue mission, "is the man who is not true to his wife. Men will pride themselves on keeping their word of honor and on their fidelity to the vows of their lodge and to this country and will stand in the presence of witnesses and take upon themselves the vow to be true to Christ and to the church but will count it a light matter to be untrue to their obligations, and will go out and join the world in dishonest methods, Sabbath desecration and many other sins."

Taking for his text Jeremiah 2:19, "Thine own wickedness shall correct thee, and thy backslidings shall reprove thee; know therefore and see that it is an evil thing and bitter, that thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God, and that My fear is not with thee, saith the Lord of hosts," Mr. Asher declared that the backslider loses the respect of himself as well as of the world and wastes years of service in winning others to Christ. "He has no hope for the future," the speaker declared.

Some of the things that cause people to backslide are neglect of the Bible and of prayer, carelessness in church attendance and a trifling attitude toward convictions of right and wrong.

"He that covereth his sins shall not prosper," is the text for the sermon this evening. C. R. Bearmore will sing.

FORD PLANT SEEN IN CASINO FILMS

Newspapers all over the country have devoted much space to the description of the great Ford factories at Detroit, and to the wonderful results of Henry Ford's methods of dealing with his employees. How these results are accomplished is told most graphically in a six-reel motion picture being shown today at the Casino theater.

The wonderfully efficient system is fully shown in a most interesting manner, and the picture commends itself to every class. There is also a solid reel given over to views of Detroit, featuring the beautiful Belle Isle park, with its aquarium and horticultural buildings. Here may be seen nearly every known species of fish and flowers. The picture as a whole leaves a most profound impression, it being not only educational, but interesting and entertaining in the extreme.

The Ford pictures will be shown for the last times tonight at the Casino.

TETLEY TAKES WIFE IN MINNEAPOLIS

Unable to resist the wiles of Mr. D. Cupid, Howard G. Tetley, son of W. L. Tetley, undertaker here, and Miss Laura H. Lawson, Minneapolis, were married in Minneapolis during the holidays. They tried to keep the marriage a secret, but Tetley let the cat out of the bag in an unconscious moment.

Rev. Louis Magin, former pastor of the Methodist church, now pastor of the Walker Methodist church at Minneapolis, performed the ceremony. The couple will reside in La Crosse. Mr. Tetley is employed by the firm of Tetley, Sletten and Dahl.

THOUSAND SLAVS TAKEN PRISONERS

VIENNA, Feb. 4.—Austro-German forces operating in the Carpathians captured one thousand Russians and several machine guns in an assault upon a strong position held by the enemy on a mountain range, it is stated officially today.

The Russians are on the offensive at several points along the mountains. Their attacks are described as "very stubborn," but the war office declared all were being repulsed. The situation in southern Poland and western Galicia is reported as unchanged.

War Oddities

AMSTERDAM.—It is reported from a Walloon village that the inhabitants are compelled to eat a kind of maize bread, which is ordinarily fed to pigeons. They take their troubles philosophically, however, and instead of saying "good morning," coo like pigeons.

PLYMOUTH, Eng.—Among the "invalids and wounded" landed here is a brindle hound belonging to Lieut. Col. Bryant, who was in charge of the British force which invaded and seized Togoland. The dog accompanied his master throughout the campaign and received a German bullet.

LONDON.—The Duchess of Rutland, who is an almost daily attendant in the peerless gallery of the House of Lords, sits knitting mufflers for the soldiers throughout the debates.

ICE FLOES CRUSH LINER ON LAKE

Goodrich Steamer Iowa Goes to Bottom of Lake Michigan but All Are Saved

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—Both her sides crushed in like an eggshell by huge ice floes that surged back onto her bow from the wake of a vessel ahead, the Goodrich line steamer Iowa went to the bottom of Lake Michigan today. She sank in less than fifty minutes. All of her crew numbering fifty or more and one passenger saved themselves by picking their way to shore over the ice. The Iowa was closely following the larger steamer Racine.

The Racine had little trouble smashing a path through the ice, although in small spots it was twelve inches thick, according to Captain G. E. Stufflebean of the Iowa. Upon reaching a point three miles from shore the ice became thicker. Suddenly several great pieces bounded back onto the Iowa's bows. There was a cracking and a rending of the plates, and the Iowa began to settle. The members of the crew had time to save all their personal effects.

ALL LA CROSSE IS TO GO TO CHURCH ON COMING SUNDAY

In spirit at least, practically every church in the city has joined the national "Go to church" movement for next Sunday.

The movement is headed by ministerial associations, the press, and business concerns. In many cities "follow up" campaigns are being planned to retain as many as possible of their augmented congregations.

Many churches have given more than ordinary attention to the movement and it is expected the spirit of the idea will have its effect on church-goers. The results of "Go to church" Sundays held periodically by a number of La Crosse churches as well as the "Church Family Sunday" held at North Presbyterian church recently, has convinced La Crosse pastors that the movement is meritorious.

HAIR COMING OUT?

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After a few applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff.

BUY AN AUTO, KEEP CHILDREN ON FARM

TOLEDO, O., Feb. 4.—The old, old question, "How to keep the children on the farm," has been answered, according to John W. Willys here today. Willys is a big auto manufacturer. The answer is the medium priced auto, says Willys.

"The wild scramble on the part of farm bred boys and girls to get work in the cities is fast becoming a thing of the past. The motor car has brought the cities to them. The auto is keeping more youngsters on the farm today than promises of city wealth ever could do," Willys declares.

Willys puts the high price of farm products in the past directly at the door of the "onto the city movement." He declared:

"The agriculturist found he must boost the price of his product in order to pay for the planting, tending and marketing of that product. But the coming of the medium priced automobile has changed conditions. His sons and daughters have the opportunity for recreation they have always sought. They are practically as independent as the youngsters whose parents live in the suburbs. In the evening their car will take them as far and fast as they want to travel. They can run to the city and attend a theater, a concert or any other amusement."

And in the present day of scientific farming implements, they are not too tired to do this either, Willys believes.

TRAGEDY ENDS TRYST

NEW ORLEANS, La., Feb. 4.—Forbidden to visit Miss Estelle Thompson, 18 years old, James Owens, aged 21, in a farewell tryst, shot and killed Miss Thompson and then turned his revolver on himself, inflicting a wound that probably will cause his death.

HIGHS AWAIT MEN FROM TOMAH TOWN

Horne's Tossers Out with a Vengeance to Even Up for Beating Handed Them at Tomah

Tomah high school, the team which on their own floor defeated La Crosse two weeks ago tomorrow night, is coming to La Crosse tomorrow night for a return game. As far as the feelings of the local tossers are concerned, they will go away with the same dose as they meted out to the La Crosse men at Tomah.

Since the shakeup in the team which sent some of the regulars to the scrubs and shifted Captain Fay from guard to center, the team has showed up well, defeating class teams easily besides handing Baraboo defeat in one of the toughest games ever seen at the high school. The team came out of the scrap in good shape and is ready for revenge on the Tomahites.

NORMAL TEAM GOES TO STEVENS POINT

Spuh Men Leave Today for Conference Game Tomorrow Night with Pointers

Normal school left today for Stevens Point where they will clash tomorrow night with the Pointers. The Point has a cracking good team this year, it is understood, and are standing up well in the conference race, having defeated River Falls Saturday 26 to 22.

Dr. Spuh's men are on edge for the game since their victories over Campton, Stout Institute and St. Joseph and are out for the northern normal school conference championship.

FANATICAL FANCIES

Jack Johnson, the dusky Frenchman, will try to enter Juarez as a Pullman porter according to the word sent out among customs officials and others yesterday near the greaser border. Gold teeth and a portly frame are handed out as means of identification of the big black. Well, it's a heap sight safer than running the risk of being shot up by Carranza and being held as contraband of war and exploited by one Mr. Villa.

Eugene Corri, referee de luxe of the Sporting club of London, has been selected as chief official at the Johnson-Willard match at Juarez. Corri may have the pleasure of crossing the ocean and turning about and going right home.

JACK JOHNSON MAY TURN PORTER TO GET INTO MEXICO

EL PASO, Texas, Feb. 4.—Jack Johnson will try to enter Mexico through the United States, disguised as a sleeping car porter. This was the information immigration officials received here Wednesday, who were warned to keep an eye open for a husky porter possessing a remarkable collection of gold teeth. A special officer went on duty at the Union station yesterday to watch him for Johnson and to nab him in case he endeavored to reach Juarez for his fight with Jess Willard by the porter route.

JUDGE, IT'LL OUR FRIEND THAT A CHEW OF TOBACCO LOADED WITH MOLASSES AND LICORICE WON'T LAST AS LONG EITHER.

THIS IS WHAT I'VE BEEN LOOKING FOR--A LITTLE CHEW THAT WILL SATISFY IT HAS A REAL TOBACCO TASTE.

THE RETIRED FARMER LOOKED MANY YEARS FOR THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW.

A MAN is so tickled when he gets the small chew of real tobacco that he wants all his friends to use "Right-Cut" too. That's why you hear men telling their friends that "Right-Cut" is the Real Tobacco Chew.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—cut fine, short shred—seasoned and sweetened just enough, cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a ready chew, cut fine and short shred so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary candied tobacco makes you spit too much.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and licorice. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut."

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

VOLLEYBALL MEN PLAY THREE GAMES

Two Association Teams to Play at Winona and First Team Will Go to Eau Claire

La Crosse volleyball prowess will be put to the test Friday night when the first and second teams of the Y. M. C. A. go to Winona to meet the first and second teams of the association there. The first team will go on to Eau Claire Saturday to clash with another association team.

The games have been arranged for following challenges sent the local team from both the northern towns. Considerable interest has been aroused around the Y. M. C. A. on the outcome of the games. Winona last year defeated La Crosse at the indoor net game.

CORRI REFEREES JUAREZ BATTLE

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 4.—Eugene Corri, official referee of the Sporting club of London, England, has been agreed upon as referee for the fight between Jack Johnson and Jess Willard at Juarez, Mex., March 6, according to an announcement made here on Wednesday by the promoter of the fight. A cablegram was sent to Corri, asking his acceptance.

DIRECTUM I SOLD TO NEW YORK MAN

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Directum I, 1:58, the world's champion pacer, was sold on Wednesday by James Butler to M. E. Sturges of this city at a price said to be not far from $45,000. Directum I. will be shipped from Kirkwood, Del., to Poughkeepsie, N. Y., to join the training stable of Thomas W. Murphy, Grand Circuit driver, who will prepare him for racing and exhibition purposes the coming season.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush your Kidneys occasionally if you eat meat regularly.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally. Says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications. Chas. A. Beyschlag, druggist, 503 Main St.

BATTLE OF CHAMPS TO BE AT PHILLIE

Champions Williams and Coulon Will Hook Up for Go February 24 in Quaker City

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—One of the choicest morsels in the fistic line that has been dished up for the box-fight fans in a long time will be Johnny Williams-Johnny Kilbane, six round set-to, carded for Philadelphia, February 24.

This will be the first time in the recent history of the padded mitt game that two actual undisputed champions have faced each other in battle. Williams is a "regular" champion. In his recent battles in this city the conquerer of Johnny Coulon made the old timers think of the famous masters of the past.

O. T. Erhart.

"None of the great little men of his past ever had anything on him, but he was a grey-haired fan, as he watched Williams beat a tattoo on the ribs of one Dutch Brandt, a New York star, "Williams is a far better man than Johnny Coulon ever was."

One thing that made Williams look mighty good in his contests here was his splendid condition. He fairly radiated good health. He started off like a veritable whirlwind in his bout with Brandt. And each round saw him increasing his speed a little. In the tenth round he was going like a buzz saw and didn't give the least impression of being tired.

Williams will have a tremendous handicap to overcome, however, when he tangles with the king of the featherweights. Kilbane will have a tremendous advantage in height and reach. The Cleveland boxer has a wallop, too, as he has demonstrated on several occasions.

Over the six round course the wise ones are stringing with Kilbane. It is their belief that he will show too much speed for his lighter opponent for the short distance. If the pair should ever hook up over the marathon route—twenty rounds—Williams probably would be the favorite.

A. B. C. TOURNAMENT STAGED IN PEORIA

Nelsons and a Picked Team Will Attend The Big Bowling Event in March

PEORIA, Ill., Feb. 4.—More than 500 five-men teams will compete in the American Bowling congress tournament here in March according to word received by local tournament officials from Abe Langtry, the secretary. Langtry says unusual interest is being shown in the Peoria event and he expects a list that is likely to equal or surpass the record of six hundred teams at Chicago.

E. J. Ryan of Detroit, president of the A. B. C., writes that the largest delegation that ever left Detroit for a similar event will come to Peoria. At least fifty teams are promised by Charles M. Baker of St. Louis, a member of the executive committee. Edwin H. Meyer of Indianapolis and William E. Kelly of Ottumwa, Ia., write that they will accompany big delegations. A special train will bring St. Paul and Minneapolis bowlers.

The Nelsons and a team picked from the stars of the La Crosse City league will go to the Peoria meet. Both teams will be gone for four or five days.

It is estimated that the government's Grand Canyon game refuge, in Arizona, now contains about ten thousand deer.
